LOOKING BACK AT GREENBELT'S WORK IN 2019 IS SUCH A PLEASURE.

As I review the work that we did with our members, partners, volunteers and many, many supporters, I feel connected to a long time horizon, and to a natural world that is larger than our human landscape.

Land conservation builds on protections accomplished in the past, with goals that stretch forward forever. The effort is continuous, but progress ebbs and flows according to cycles of family and community, and sometimes just to odd circumstance. A year like 2019, with important land conservation successes, deserves notice and celebration: that progress is permanent.

2019 was also a year of growth in Greenbelt's core areas of engagement and land stewardship, important organizational strengths that have proven vital to Greenbelt's resiliency. As this Annual Report highlights, we "made hay while the sun was shining" in 2019, and finished the year in a strong position to succeed well into the future.

Many thanks to all of our community for helping make 2019 such a success!

PRIORITIZATION PROJECT

Over the last two years, Greenbelt has been working on a unique mapping project to prioritize our land conservation work. In addition to agriculture and habitat value, land parcels were evaluated based on their capacity to mitigate floodwater, support biodiversity in a warming climate, protect our drinking water and produce natural cooling effects in hot urban areas.

COASTAL FLOODING

URBAN COOLING

Partners and Collaboration

Throughout the project, Greenbelt has benefited from partnerships with experts and practitioners in related fields, including an Advisory Panel who helped inform the methods of the analyses. Greenbelt is extremely grateful for all of their time and assistance.

We also partnered with Salem State University's Department of Geography and Sustainability who completed a site specific sea level rise analysis for the Cox Reservation in Essex. The management of the reservation will benefit from the projections of sea level rise and flooding on the property.

Putting the Data to Work

Greenbelt has been working with municipal partners in Essex and Gloucester under a Massachusetts Office of Coastal Zone Management Coastal Resiliency Grant to refine our data for improved municipal use. That work has led to collaborations with additional communities, where Greenbelt has provided custom maps for open space and municipal vulnerability planning purposes. We are looking to expand these partnerships in 2020 and beyond, and are excited about the opportunities to incorporate climate resiliency into planning at many different levels.

Many thanks to New England Biolabs Foundation, Toward Sustainability Foundation, The Land Trust Alliance, Open Space Institute and the Massachusetts Office of Coastal Zone Management for their generous financial support.

Greenbelt's work is made possible by our many generous members and donors, whose individual contributions made up more than half of our 2019 operating budget.

In addition to funding for our operations, Greenbelt raised $4,186,620 in 2019 in support of specific land conservation projects.

A continued culture of strong support for Greenbelt's mission, and prudent fiscal management, led to a strong financial position for the organization at the end of 2019.

A copy of the 2019 audited financial statement is available at the Becker Center for Conservation, Greenbelt's headquarters in Essex.

LEAVING A LEGACY OF LAND

Greenbelt was honored to receive a Charitable Bequest from Mrs. Maureen Corbett that included 8.65 acres and a house. In keeping with her intentions, Greenbelt sold the house and in 2019 protected the remaining 5.65 acres of native woodlands that connect to Haverhill watershed lands. We appreciate being a part of Mrs. Corbett's wishes to leave a lasting legacy of land in Haverhill.
